VIEW SYSTEMS ANNOUNCES INCREASING POPULARITY OF POSITIVE ID SYSTEM

BALTIMORE, MD – [CRWE NEWSWIRE] June 23, 2009 -- View Systems, Inc. (OTC BB: VSYM.OB), a security and tele-data solutions provider, announced today that the company's Positive ID System is quickly gaining popularity amongst the correctional and courthouse marketplaces.

The Positive ID system is made up of a fingerprint reader, an ID scanner and a visitor badge printer. It can run in conjunction with the ViewScan Concealed Weapons Detector or as a standalone unit. Courthouses and correctional facilities from across the nation have contacted View representatives to learn more about this intelligent configuration.

Gunther Than, CEO of View Systems, states, "The possibilities with this system are nearly endless. It can print stick-on photo ID visitor badges, keep a comprehensive log of who entered and exited the facility each day and even allow officers to enter data about a person such as 'unruly behavior, not allowed to return for one week.' It can also record certain fingerprints, like those of employees, to expedite their entry into the facility. And taking that one step further, it can even be configured to track employee attendance. This intuitive system is quickly gaining popularity and we've received multiple requests for demos. This smart accessory is going to be yet another step in the right direction for View Systems."
